

Pollinator Garden Resources

This handy guide is to help you plant a garden for pollinators. Some of the organizations are national and some are specific to California. This list is open source and please share, add, and distribute to save the pollinators.

Organization	Website
Pollinator Posse	https://pollinatorposse.org/
Pollinator Pathway	https://www.pollinator-pathway.org/
Xerces Society	https://www.xerces.org/
North American Butterfly Association	https://naba.org/
Art Shapiro's Butterfly Site	https://butterfly.ucdavis.edu/
UC Berkeley Urban Bee Lab	http://www.helpabee.org/
Pollinator Partnership	https://www.pollinator.org/

Nurseries and Seeds

Annies Annuals	https://www.anniesannuals.com/
Emerisa Gardens	https://www.emerisa.com/
Seed Libraries at your library	https://www.communityseedexchange.org/other-seed-libraries

Check your local botanical garden and nurseries – they may have more local resources and events. If you have more resources to add to this document please send a message here:

<https://www.sarahwaitechase.com/contact>

